

Good Friday Walk 2015

Thank you to everyone who helped make this year's Good Friday Walk event a success. We raised $8,412 in pledges with almost half turned in on the day of the event.

Undeterred by a difficult winter and a reluctant spring, we had ninety-six walkers participate this year (twenty-four of them were first time walkers); seventy-four people walked the full twenty miles. Our youngest walker was eight year old Camden McPeck; our oldest walker was eighty-one year old Dave Howe. The following people were recognized during the Easter service for their milestone Good Friday Walk achievements:

Jacob Gerow: 200 miles

Felecia Gerardi: 10 years

Matt Yoder: 400 miles

Don Ross: 30 years

Lori Thompson: 500 miles

Judie Culy: 30 years

Every year numerous people volunteer to help with the walk. Whether coordinating volunteers, donating supply items, packaging supplies for each stop, patrolling the streets for walkers in distress, or opening up their homes as rest stops, the walk would not have been a success without all of these dedicated people. Thank you to all who helped.

Stop Hunger Now

On Saturday, April 18th, RUMC held our second annual Stop Hunger Now meal packaging event. We packaged 10,000 meals in about an hour and a half. Our 10,000+ meals will be added to meals from other events to fill a transport. Once the 285,120 meals needed to fill a transport are collected, they will be shipped—most likely to Haiti for our meals. Stop Hunger Now not only addresses hunger issues in 65 countries but root cause issues such as lack of education, access to clean water, and maternal health. There is a clean water campaign going on in Haiti right now.

Thanks to all who planned fund raisers, donated money, and participated in our meal packaging event. Your dedication helped us take a step closer to the Stop Hunger Now goal of eliminated hunger world-wide. Thank you.

Dear Friends:

People have been asking me if I'm "getting excited" about retiring. The best answer I can offer is "yes" and "no". Like any new experience, there's always a measure of anticipation and excitement laced with a fair degree of anxiety and uncertainty. It's just as it should be. I remember another time when I was asked if I was "getting excited". I was pregnant for the first time and I was filled with happiness but more than a little anxious. Motherhood, especially the first time around, always carries an equal share of fear and trembling weighed against the anticipation of the joy of holding your first baby in your arms and dreaming all those impossible dreams of a wonderful future where everything comes out just the way it should.

Like most first time events in our lives we take them on as novices. We learn as we go. Along the way, we make mistakes. But it is a learning experience and, for me, learning something new and different has always been a time of excitement and challenge. I guess I kind of like the tussle. It stretches my nerve and helps me explore hidden talents while revealing some unpleasant revelations. I'm not always good at everything, but then again, I'm not supposed to be. We are created as thinking, exploring, and curious human beings. We stretch our muscles to see how much we can lift or how much we must carry. And when we reach our limit, we know we can turn to a strength beyond our own. God is an ever-present source of help in times of trouble. The psalmist assures us of this source of help and Christ confirmed it as he stilled the fears of his disciples before and after the resurrection. There would be challenging and fearful moments in the future but the disciples could count on the presence of the Holy Spirit to help lift those fears and ease their restless souls.

I'm well aware that in this time of transition and change, I'm not the only one experiencing uncertainty and excitement. Churches, anticipating the exit of one pastor and the entrance of another, go through a myriad of emotions. They walk through a labyrinth of feelings ranging from fear and trembling to expectation and hope. A church community is like a family. Conceptually, I think of it as a hanging mobile. Experiencing or anticipating change in a church is very much like touching one of the figures hanging from the wires on the mobile. Not only does that one figure respond to the movement of a finger against its surface; the whole structure responds. It shifts and then readjusts in a different configuration. It acts just as it is intended to act. Ultimately, a church community both lay and pastor does the same. If we are faithful to our ultimate mission to serve God and serve others, we shift and adjust as necessary to insure that our call to serve God and love one another is met. And, when we feel ourselves falter a bit, we know we can rely on the Holy Spirit to help us find our way back to the place God would have us be on the mobile, the place from which we give our best selves. That's a comfort to me and I hope, to all of you too.

Blessings,
Pastor Ricki

Another month is about to pass us by. How does that saying go? April showers bring May flowers! I don't know about you, but I'm ready for a beautiful spring, filled with flowers and all spring has to offer us. It's been a long winter and we are due for some nice weather.

As I contemplated what type of article I might contribute to May's newsletter, it didn't take long for me to decide. I had to go with the most recent events of my life and what's been most pressing on my mind and in my heart. So here goes....

Last weekend, our Sunderland family and the DelRios (my sister Connie and her husband, Jose) and her two sons, Bryan and Eric, drove back home to Pennsylvania for the auction of our parents' estate and auction/sale of their home. We had anticipated these days for a very long time and knew eventually it would have to happen. That didn't make it any easier for me. Some of us are more anxious and stressed than others. So, on a Friday night, April 17th, we had the auction of their "contents", all the material things from the house and shed. The auctioneer started the sale by thanking everyone for coming and telling those present whose estate they were there for, adding a comment that he was certain so many were there because they knew of our parents and how meticulous they were with their possessions. Now, a little perspective, we were told by the auctioneer an average auction brings out maybe 100-150 people. Our night, there were probably well over 400 people.  A huge turnout, the biggest they ever had at that location In those opening moments, as the auctioneer spoke so kindly of our parents, I became a little emotional and overwhelmed as the bidding was about to start. I also was very proud that night, hearing all the wonderful compliments about our parents from everyone. We had so much support from the family, our relatives, cousins, aunts, and Pennsylvania family friends. Seeing everyone there that night somehow made me feel a bit better.

The next day was the auction of the Sunderland home, April 18th. Another day that stress and emotions ran high. Again, some of our cousins, aunts and Pennsylvania family friends came for the sale. As the "relatives" hung out in the garage, anxious with anticipation, the bidders stood outside with the auctioneer. Let the bidding begin.... All I can say, and I know this to be true...God was watching over us and the sale. And, I felt our parents were smiling down on us watching over us and their home. I believe it was meant to be...the new owners are a lovely older couple, Cathy and Steve, from just over the mountain. They were so happy and excited to be new owners. God put them there. Cathy shook as she cried, as we did, going over all the paperwork to make them the new owners. We already feel like family with them. They invited us back anytime. It was meant to be....

I may not have always known God's plan, but God had a plan for us. For Cathy and for Steve. God heard my prayers every morning and every night and God answered my prayers. God sent his angels and they were watching over us.

APRIL 18TH, 2015, it was four years to the day our father lost his battle with pancreatic cancer. The day we said goodbye to their home, and brought us some closure as we hold on to all our wonderful memories we have of them.

Mom and Dad, Always and Forever in our Hearts. We love you and miss you.

"When God Created Mothers"

When the Good Lord was creating mothers, He was into His sixth day of "overtime" when the angel appeared and said. "You're doing a lot of fiddling around on this one."

And God said, "Have you read the specs on this order?" She has to be completely washable, but not plastic. Have 180 moveable parts...all replaceable. Run on black coffee and leftovers. Have a lap that disappears when she stands up. A kiss that can cure anything from a broken leg to a disappointed love affair. And six pairs of hands."

The angel shook her head slowly and said. "Six pairs of hands.... no way."

It's not the hands that are causing me problems," God remarked, "it's the three pairs of eyes that mothers have to have."

That's on the standard model?" asked the angel. God nodded.

One pair that sees through closed doors when she asks, 'What are you kids doing in there?' when she already knows. Another here in the back of her head that sees what she shouldn't but what she has to know, and of course the ones here in front that can look at a child when he goofs up and say. 'I understand and I love you' without so much as uttering a word."

God," said the angel touching his sleeve gently, "Get some rest, tomorrow...."

"I can't," said God, "I'm so close to creating something so close to myself. Already I have one who heals herself when she is sick...can feed a family of six on one pound of hamburger...and can get a nine year old to stand under a shower."

The angel circled the model of a mother very slowly. "It's too soft," she sighed.

But tough!" said God excitedly. "You can't imagine what this mother can do or endure."

Can it think?"

Not only can it think, but it can reason and compromise," said the Creator.

Finally, the angel bent over and ran her finger across the cheek.

There's a leak," she pronounced. "I told You that You were trying to put too much into this model."

It's not a leak," said the Lord, "It's a tear."

What's it for?"

It's for joy, sadness, disappointment, pain, loneliness, and pride."

You are a genius, " said the angel.

Somberly, God said, "I didn't put it there."

Mother's Day 2015 BLANKETS OF HOPE

CHURCH WORLD SERVICE

For the person who has everything, why not give a gift of hope? At a cost of only $10, a Church World Service blanket is a great gift. In war, flood, earthquake, famine, wherever people are displaced, these blankets help to let people know that somebody cares. Blankets provide warmth in the cold, privacy in crowded camps, a way of carrying a child or one's possessions on the march. In giving them we honor mothers, or anyone else who is special in our lives, whose names will be listed in a special bulletin on Mother's Day, May 10th. Orders will be accepted from Sunday, April 19 through Sunday, May 3. Please return this to the church office no later than May 3, 2015.

One of the office goals for 2015 is to update our records in Servant Keeper. Keeping these records complete and accurate helps make our year-end statistical reporting to the district easier to obtain. One very important thing we noticed is we do not have emergency contact information for most of our members. In some cases we may know who to contact but not how to reach them. Please take a few minutes to fill out the information below and on the next page--even if you think I already have your information. I would like to verify that we have correct information for our records.

Thank you for your help.

Emergency Response in Nepal

The massive earthquake that hit Nepal on April 25th has been devastating. There are 6,134 confirmed fatalities, 13, 906 injured, hundreds of thousands now homeless, and thousands still unaccounted for. “Thousands of villages have been devastated, with up to 90% of clinics and schools in some districts rendered unusable.”¹

One of the tips recommended before giving to a disaster relief charity is to verify that the organization has a presence in the affected area: “Make sure the organization has worked in Nepal and has people on the ground there, has relationships with the government and community — and has experience responding to natural disasters.”² Here is information about two organizations with a presence in Nepal.

The Vernon Adult Education Students are collecting money for AmeriCares. They will be collecting the money next week to drop off at one of the Channel 3 collection sites for AmeriCares. Donations directly to AmeriCares can be made online https://secure.AmeriCares.org/site/Donation2?df_id=17060&17060.donation=form1&mlb=0. AmeriCares was deployed in Nepal within 48 hours, providing medical care and supplies: the emergency team on April 27th; the medical team on April 28th. The standard AmeriCares response strategy follows these steps:³

- Deploy and support medical teams providing direct care to survivors
- Provide medicines and supplies to frontline health workers
- Supply survivors with water purification tablets, health & hygiene kits, blankets and other ‘need based’ relief material
- Work with local health institutions to re-establish health services
- Support rehabilitation of damaged health facilities

RUMC is recommending that we donate through the United Methodist Committee on Relief (UMCOR): donations to UMCOR International Disaster Response, Advance #982450. UMCOR has a small contingent already in Nepal and works closely with other organizations based in Nepal.

On April 27th, the UMCOR “Global Ministries’ relief and development unit, approved a grant of $90,000 for international partner GlobalMedic to bring sorely needed clean water to survivors through provision of household and public water-filtration units.”⁴ GlobalMedic reports the following as of April 28th:⁵

As our Rapid Response Team in Kathmandu begins operations deploying our UAVs and water purification systems, the volunteers at our office in Toronto have spent the day preparing and shipping additional relief items. These items include 30 tents of various sizes from 16' x 16' up to 18' x 36' that will be used to replace damaged infrastructure for hospitals and health clinics. Tens of thousands of families have spent their nights outdoors due to the fear of strong aftershocks that continue to ravage Nepal. These shelters will be essential in providing people with access to safe and reliable space to receive medical care.

UMCOR stocks standard relief kits for distribution in times of crisis. They are currently in need of Health Kits and School Kits. Material requirements and assembly instructions for the kits are found at this link <http://www.umcor.org/UMCOR/Relief-Supplies>.
