

Hello,

MCM Fundraising has an incentive promotion to sign up for fundraisers early. I signed up for two, but I can cancel one or both if the church council doesn't approve.

October 13, 2019 to November 5, 2019: Cookies and Cake Roll fundraiser. We have not done either before. The goodies would be available by the Sunday before Thanksgiving. I figure the cake rolls are traditional for some for Christmas, and they could work for the not-so-traditional Thanksgiving. Cookies are also good for Thanksgiving, or they can be saved to make for Santa. Our goal would be to get 25 people to sell at least 3 items each to raise $500.

March 1, 2020 to March 22, 2020: Braided Bread Pastry and Otis Spunkmeyer

Cookie. The pastries would arrive in time for Palm Sunday. Our goal would be to get 25 people to sell at least 4 items to raise $500.

I would like to schedule a Family Painting Fundraiser for September. People will be back from Summer Vacation, but it is before things get crazy with the Harvest Supper in October. The cost is $35 per person; the church gets $10 per person from that. They need a minimum of 15 people to sign up. The company provides all of the painting supplies and the instructor. The actual amount going to the church is low ($150 or more), but it will be a good opportunity for fellowship. Other places offer these events as adult-only, but I think the kids in this church would do well. I did talk to the company and they suggest the kids be at least 8 years old to participate. If I can get an ok from the Church Council, I would love to schedule this in September.

The above fundraisers do not require the church to provide money up front to organize it. I would still be willing to organize a movie night, but that would require a cost the church would hope to recoup through the fundraiser.

Please let me know if these are approved, so I can take the appropriate actions.

Sincerely,

Diane Lajoie
